GENERAL INFORMATION

RTMETH03

Scope. This catalog of Library of Congress publications supersedes the 1987 issue. Although some of the titles listed are not actually published by the Library, they are included because they were prepared by members of its staff and published in cooperation with the Library. Their distributors are given. Audio and video recordings produced and sold by the Library are also included. Publications of the Library's Cataloging Distribution Service and of its Copyright Office are listed in catalogs issued by those offices and are not included here. See Other Lists below for further information. Administrative memoranda, works published as congressional documents and material prepared to meet current reference needs within the Library, such as finding aids and brief bibliographies, are generally omitted.

Arrangement. Items are listed in alphabetical order by title in each of four separate sections: I. Books, Pamphlets, and Serials; II. Folk and Music Recordings; III. Literary Recordings; IV. Video Recordings. An index provides a key to subjects, to authors mentioned in the entries, and to titles in series.

LC Call Number or Location. The LC call number is given in brackets. If a number has not been assigned, the name of the Library subdivision in which it is located is given instead. The word Law, for example, indicates that the item is in the Law Library. This information is used mainly to locate publications in the collections of the Library of Congress. The call number should not be used in ordering a publication.

LC Card Number. The number following the word Card should be used only in ordering copies of the printed LC catalog card.

Other Lists. As new LC publications are issued, they are announced in the weekly Library of Congress Information Bulletin (item 268) and in the Superintendent of Documents' Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications. The Annual Report of the Librarian of Congress (item 24) contains a list of LC publications issued during the fiscal year covered. Library of Congress Selected Publications (item 273) describes LC publications of general interest and provides ordering information. Access: Catalogs and Technical Publications (item 1) lists publications of the Cataloging Distribution Service. Publications on Copyright (item 389) lists publications of the Copyright Office.

Photoreproductions and Reprints. The Library's Photoduplication Service can make photocopies of out-of-print LC publications available in the Library's own collections. The cost of microfilm (35 mm) or other photoreproductions may be obtained from the Library of Congress, Photoduplication Service, Washington, D.C. 20540. Some LC publications have been reprinted commercially. These may be identified in Guide to Reprints or Books in Print, standard reference works found in many libraries.

HOW TO ORDER BOOKS, PAMPHLETS, AND SERIALS

The publications in this list are distributed by different agencies, and procedures vary with each distributor. The source for each publication is indicated, usually by a symbol. The key to the symbols, with instructions for ordering, is given below. When ordering, describe the item desired by title, date, and the distributor's identifying number, if given (do not use the LC card number or call number). Supplies of publications are limited, and prices are subject to change without notice.

SuDocs For sale by the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402-9325. When ordering, cite the stock number (S/N) if given; it appears in parentheses preceding the price. For periodicals, the date on which the subscription is to begin should be indicated. In most cases, back issues cannot be supplied.

Prices are subject to change and the prices charged on your order will be those in effect at the time your order is processed. As it is not feasible to correct manually the prices in the publications affected by price changes, the prices charged on your order may differ from those printed in the publications.

Remittance must be made to the Superintendent of Documents by check, money order, charge against a Superintendent of Documents Deposit Account, or charge to a valid MasterCard or VISA account (see below), before publications can be shipped. Foreign remittances should be made by draft on a United States or Canadian bank (in U.S. dollars), by UNESCO coupon, or by International Postal Money Order. Foreign currency, checks, and postage stamps will not be accepted. No charge is made for postage on documents forwarded to points in the United States and its possessions. For publications shipped to foreign countries there is a charge for the special handling required by customs and international mailing regulations. One-fourth the total price of the order should be added to cover this charge, which includes postage for surface mailing.

The Superintendent of Documents will allow a discount of 25 percent to purchasers of 100 or more copies of a single publication mailed to one address. Bookdealers, buying for the purpose of resale, will receive the same discount regardless of quantity if the publications are mailed to their place of business.

In addition to the mail order service, there are also Government Printing Office bookstores located throughout the country which stock roughly 1,500 of the most popular titles. The locations of these stores are given on p. ix-x.

The Superintendent of Documents will accept orders charged to a valid MasterCard or VISA account. Customers wishing to use one of these services should furnish their credit card number and date of expiration. Credit card purchases will be accepted in all GPO bookstores and on mail orders to the central office in Washington, D.C. Telephone orders to be charged to a Superintendent of Documents Deposit Account or to a MasterCard or VISA account may be placed by calling the order desk in Washington (7:30 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. Eastern time, Monday-Friday, except holidays) at (202) 783-3238. Customers with teletype equipment can charge orders to a deposit account or credit card account by dialing the GPO TWX #710-822-9413; ANSWER BACK USGPO WSH. Customers on the DIALOG system may transfer their orders via DIALORD.

Richard Wilbur. no. 621

The Delights of reading: quotes, notes
& anecdotes. no. 125

A lively collection of words and images on reading and writing from a variety of perspectives, assembled by well known picture archivist and bibliophile Otto Bettmann. It includes readers expounding on writers; writers on readers, agents, publishers, and censors; and a variety of wits
and sages on how literature affects individuals and societies.

Documenting America, 1935-1943.
no. 139

A fresh look at the work of the now legendary assemblage of photographers
who chronicled first the Great Depression
for the U.S. Farm Security Administration and then the country's war preparations for the Office of War Information. The book is organized into sections that examine 15 individual assignments, with short introductory essays explaining how the assignment came about and providing background about the subject, photographer, and FSA-OWI administration.
Extensively illustrated.

East Germany: a country study.
no. 146

[Edward MacDowell's] The Symphonic
poems. no. 583

Federal copyright records, 1790-1800.
no. 154

A compilation of copyright registration
and title-page data from the first decade of U.S. copyright law, providing general access for the first time to a key source for studying the intellectual history of the United States. Contains transcribed records for the 779 imprints published between 1790 and 1800, encompassing a range of historical and bibliographical details. Also included is an extensive introductory essay on the origins and development of American copyright law and practice.

Fine printing: the Los Angeles tradition.
no. 157

Ward Ritchie, a pioneer Southern California printer and book crafter, recalls
the events and personalities that underlie
the rich tradition of fine printing in Los Angeles. Itself an elegant letterpress edition, the volume is illustrated with photographs of some of the artisans discussed and reproductions of their work.

A collection of 17 essays from Dr. Boorstin's twelve-year tenure as Librarian of Congress focusing on the book and its fundamental importance in our lives. The essays elucidate the connections among books, libraries, and the wider universe in which we live and reflect the breadth of perspective Dr. Boorstin brought to the helm of the world's largest library.

The Republic of Turkey, an American perspective: a guide to U.S. official documents and government-sponsored publications. no. 415

Respectfully quoted: a dictionary of quotations requested from the Congressional Research Service. no. 416

The culmination of some 75 years of quotation research by the Congressional Research Service in the Library of Congress, this collection of some 2,100 quotations that have been requested by Members of Congress reflects the spirit, humor, and diversity of the real world of politics. Almost half of the quotations cannot be found in any other reference, and many contain accompanying contextual or other notes.

Russia looks at America: the view to 1917. no. 428

A survey of materials that illustrate how Imperial Russia viewed the fact and myth of the United States. Using sources primarily from the Library of Congress, which contains more than 800,000 volumes in the Russian language, the book summarizes the development of the Russian view of America up to the Civil War and subsequently addresses Russian perceptions in particular areas such as literature and cinema, agriculture, social organization, and technology.

The Tradition of science: landmarks of Western science in the collections of the Library of Congress. no. 476

Highlighted by studies of first editions of Galileo, Copernicus, Newton, Darwin, Pasteur, Freud, Einstein, and many other important but lesser known discoverers and theorists, this is a unique blend of history and bibliography that traces the path of Western scientific development as it was recorded in books, pamphlets and scientific journals. Aimed at a general audience, the narrative and more than 200 illustrations provide a peak-to-peak account of the major scientific disciplines as they took shape among our scientific forebears.

The True essentials of a feast: a collection of recipes from the staff of the Library of Congress. no. 479

An eclectic, internationally flavored collection of more than 170 recipes, from Almond Mushroom Paté to Swedish Pancakes and Trifle, contributed by the staff of the Library of Congress. The book is also peppered with scintillating quotations on the subject of food, and includes 64 illustrations from the Library's collections.

Von Steuben and the German contribution to the American Revolution: a selective bibliography. no. 503

"Well acquainted with books": the founding framers of 1787: with James Madison's list of books for Congress.
no. 511

An essay by historian Robert Rutland on the critical role that books and the ideas conveyed by books played in the founding of our nation, followed by a list of books that Congressman James Madison considered necessary for the use of the national legislature.
